Actress Continues Campaign Against War

Jane on Viet Bombing... Genocidal Crime

By JON POWERS

KINGSTON
Large and enthusiastic crowds greeted Jane Fonda in New Paltz and Kingston Monday, as the controversial anti-war actress continued her campaign against the Vietnam War.

More than 1,000 persons crowded Kingston's Municipal Auditorium Monday night to hear Miss Fonda and Tom Hayden condemn the Nixon administration and the bombing of North Vietnam. The predominantly youthful audience interrupted several times with cheers and applause.

"The United States is the aggressor in Vietnam," she charged. "The Vietnamese are not our enemies. This war is a rich man's war. Thousands and thousands of men, women and children are being wiped off the face of the earth while Nixon tells us that the war is winding down."

A recent visitor to North Vietnam, Miss Fonda devoted much of her address to describing the things she saw and heard during her ten-day stay in Hanoi.

She spoke at length on reported American bombing of the dikes in North Vietnam, bombing she calls "deliberate." She accused the Nixon administration of carrying out a policy of dike destruction to bring massive starvation on the North Vietnamese peasants, and then to use that starvation as a bargaining point at the Paris peace talks.

"It's a genocidal crime," she charged, "and it's amazing that the leader of this country has even considered it."

But Miss Fonda and Hayden emphasized that they are not "playing politics" during their two-month tour of the nation's seven largest states. Both said they are supporting Sen. George McGovern because he has pledged to end the war if elected.

"This war has to end," said Miss Fonda. "We don't care if Nixon does it, or if McGovern does it, but it has to be our top priority."

Earlier in the day, Hayden admitted that he was not enamored by McGovern's "hawkish" stand on Israel. Then a man maintained that McGovern "should be for peace everywhere, not just Vietnam," Hayden replied, "I agree."

There was a larger, but less enthusiastic, crowd to greet the two in New Paltz earlier in the day. Almost 3,000 persons ringed the main quadrangle at the State University College to hear Miss Fonda and Hayden extort their anti-war sentiments.

Municipal Auditorium... Bizarre Episode Resolved

KINGSTON
There is probably truth to the rumor that Jane Fonda had an easier time getting into North Vietnam than Kingston's Municipal Auditorium. But what developed into one of the most bizarre episodes involving city officials and the peace movement was finally resolved Monday night.

So Jane Fonda has come and gone, and Kingston appears no worse for the experience. Her day in the Mid-Hudson Valley was marked by large and enthusiastic crowds in both New Paltz and Kingston; fears that her appearance here would spark a confrontation between contrasting ideologies proved unfounded.

There is still the matter of that much-discussed insurance policy. It wasn't until 8:30 p.m. Monday, with crowds spilling from the sidewalks along Broadway, that the doors of the auditorium were swung open by a much-traveled slip of paper.

Late Monday afternoon, U.S. District Court Judge Charles H. Tenney issued an injunction against the city permitting Miss Fonda's rally to be held at the auditorium. Judge Tenney said that the insurance coverage was sufficient, and that the sponsors "appeared to have made every effort" to comply with the regulations.

The city was represented in the Manhattan federal court by Special City Court Judge George A. Beck and City Clerk Louis A. DeCicco. When the proceedings ended, they headed back to Kingston with the court order.

At that point, sponsors figured all their problems were solved. Not so. It was learned a short time later that the insurance policy covered a 12-hour period, "but it didn't specify which 12-hour period," according to Maris Cakers, one of the organizers.

Then began a frantic search for the insurance broker that issued the policy—Walter S. Groter of Lawrence, N. Y. (Long Island). Cakers finally contacted Groter, who agreed to correct the mistake in the policy.

"But there was a problem," said Cakers. "Groter is Jewish, and according to religious law, he can't transact business during Yom Kippur." When Yom Kippur ended at Sunset Monday, Groter contacted a broker with Marshall and Sterling, Inc. in Poughkeepsie, who made the necessary change in the policy.

Because the city officials would not accept a telegram verifying the change, Cakers rushed from Poughkeepsie to Kingston with the necessary papers. He arrived in Kingston at 7:40 p.m.; Beck and DeCicco arrived a short time later. After examining both the court order and the policy for 30 minutes, city officials gave the order: Jane Fonda can use the auditorium.

But all else was not anti-climactic. The star of the show at the Municipal Auditorium was Jane Fonda, and it appeared as though few in the audience were disappointed.

It was a predominantly young crowd, with a sprinkling of adults. Anyone was vehemently opposed to what Miss Fonda and Tom Hayden had to say, they didn't show it.

The program began with several musical selections by folksinger Pete Seeger, whose efforts were greeted by a foot-stomping, hand-clapping roar of approval from the audience. Several causes were then promoted (a spokesman for the United Farm Workers was one) before Hayden and Miss Fonda made their entrance, accompanied by a standing ovation from the crowd.

Her reception at New Paltz was much the same. Close to 3,000 persons (mostly students) crowded the main quadrangle in front of the administration building to hear her hour-long denunciation of President Nixon and the Vietnam War.

The New Paltz rally was originally scheduled for the cramped Main Building Auditorium. With every seat taken, with the stage and aisles packed tightly, and with hundreds more waiting outside, the rally was finally moved outdoors. Hayden and Miss Fonda announced at first that they would speak from inside the Main Building doorway for "security reasons." When the crowd booed its displeasure, they moved the podium outside on the steps.

After it was all over, organizers of the two rallies were ecstatic. "It was beautiful," said Paul Atkinson, chairman of the Ulster County Peace Committee. "It went off without a hitch. I guess we should thank the city. If it weren't for all the hassles with the insurance, we never would have received all this attention."

The rally in Kingston ended at 10:25 p.m., five minutes before the specified time when the auditorium had to be emptied. Hayden and Miss Fonda, weary from a day of travel and speeches, climbed into a car and headed for New York City.

Federal Aid to Parochial Schools Is Endorsed by Sen. McGovern

CHICAGO (AP) — After a day of campaign foulups that reportedly left him fuming, Sen. George McGovern today endorsed the idea of tax credits for parents of students in private and parochial schools.

The move was seen mainly as a friendly gesture toward millions of Roman Catholic voters concentrated in the large states which the Democratic presidential nominee feels are crucial for his bid for the White House.

McGovern said he endorsed the "tax credit approach" without proposing any specific plan.

Previously McGovern had said he was exploring ways to aid parochial schools without violating the U.S. Constitution's prohibition against mingling church and government.

McGovern released his statement on parochial school aid before heading into a closed-door meeting with Chicago labor leaders. He also was to appear at a Catholic technical high school in a predominantly white, working class neighborhood in the northwest part of the city.

Monday, McGovern put in a 17-hour day on the campaign trail in West Virginia coal country, Ohio's industrial south-west and the rural southern tip of Illinois. But the nominee spent barely five hours of that time campaigning.

The rest of the time was spent fighting twisting mountain roads and city traffic jams, so that by late afternoon, a highly placed traveling staffer was muttering "dumb! dumb-dumb!"

McGovern was described as extremely irritated after arriving in Cincinnati two hours behind schedule and so late that his interviews with local television newsmen missed the afternoon broadcasts. One station cancelled its interview altogether.

He got himself back on schedule by forfeiting a couple of hours of personal time he had planned in Cincinnati.

McGovern could have done better if he had waited two days until the start of classes at SIU.

McGovern spent the night in Chicago. McGovern may get off an effort to pep up his lagging campaign for the presidency with a nationwide television talk to the American people.

Many Problems Confront Delegates

Critical UN Assembly Session

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — An escalating crisis in the Middle East, Chinese and Soviet demands for the withdrawal of U.S. troops from Korea, and a bitter debate on the 27th U.N. General Assembly.

Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko heads a high-powered Soviet delegation. He is the first of the Big Five foreign affairs chiefs to arrive for the 13-week parley, which 73 foreign ministers are expected to attend.

U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers, Sir Alec Douglas-Home, the British foreign secretary, French Foreign Minister Maurice Schumann and the Chinese foreign affairs vice minister, Chiao Kuan hua are scheduled to arrive in the next few days.

As on that occasion, a force of federal Executive Protective Service agents has been sent to Washington. Presidential Nixon ordered 40 to New York to guard the U.N. missions of 18 Arab countries, Israel and the West German observer following the Munich killing of 11 Israeli Olympic squad members. The session also meets in the lengthening shadow of a Middle East crisis which observers say has set back chances of a negotiated peace agreement several years.

Police Seize Hand Grenade in Drug Raid

By WALTER S. CLARK

WOODSTOCK A lengthy investigation by State Police Bureau of Criminal Investigation officers from the Hurley barracks, and Woodstock town police in charge of Chief William E. Waterous led to a raid Monday night at a residence on Route 212 in this township resulting in the arrest of two male occupants of the house and the seizure of quantities of drugs, implements adapted for administering narcotics and a hand grenade.

Taken into custody on several felony counts were David Francis Gunning, 26, and Anthony L. Lisotta, 20, who reportedly had leased the residence.

The house and the two men had been under surveillance by authorities for some time, it was reported, and yesterday a search warrant was obtained and executed by the raiding party.

Gunning and Lisotta were both arraigned before Town Justice Rudolf Baumgarten. They entered pleas of innocent and were committed to the Ulster County Jail in lieu of bail totaling $7,500 for each defendant.

Authorities said the men were charged with criminal possession of dangerous drugs third degree, two counts of felonies, criminal possession of assorted implements adapted for administering narcotics and unlawful possession of an explosive device—a hand grenade.

The grenade was to undergo marijuana, LSD, hashish and a property, a felony. The charge close examination today to determine whether or not it is tablets that are to be examined "live." No explanation was at the State Police laboratory.

As the raiding party of state were expected to enter the residence, they reportedly uncovered quantities of material suspected to be cocaine, of criminal possession of stolen rests were BCI Investigators Authorities indicated that further investigation of the case will be conducted and additional charges may be filed. Gunning and Lisotta were scheduled to reappear Friday night in the Woodstock justice's court.

Ulster County Added to List

ALBANY

Ulster County has been added to the list of counties in the state eligible for major disaster assistance due to damage caused by tropical storm Agnes, a federal official said Monday.

Donald T. Hartley, district director of the Internal Revenue Service said taxpayers in Ulster County, who suffered a loss as a result of the storm, may claim a deduction by amending their 1972 income tax return.

Persons whose returns were destroyed, he said, may request copies of their returns from their nearest IRS office.

Hartley stated further that many taxpayers, in requesting emergency loans from agencies such as the Small Business Administration, must often submit copies of their Federal Income Tax returns usually for three previous years. Since there records may be destroyed, they may request photocopies from the nearest IRS office by filing a form and furnishing evidence of their identity.

Taxpayers needing assistance in the preparation of amended returns may contact the Kingston IRS office at 259 Fair Street any Tuesday between 8:15 a.m. and 4:45 p.m. Telephone assistance is also available.

Grain Exporters To Give Their Side

By BOB GREENE
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Two of the nation's largest grain exporters, who allegedly received information that would allow them to make "windfall profits" in the sale of U.S. wheat to the Soviet Union, tell their side of the story today.

Clarence D. Palmby, former assistant secretary of agriculture and now vice president of the Continental Grain Co., and a representative of Cargill Grain Co. of Minneapolis, were to testify before a House agriculture subcommittee.

On Monday, officials of farm organizations accused the Agriculture Department of providing timely information to exporters, but not to farmers, concerning the huge grain sale. "There is reason for strong suspicion that inside information was available to at least some wheat traders," said Weldon V. Barton, assistant legislative director of the National Farmers Union (NFU).

Charles L. Frazier of the National Farmers Organization (NFO) said farmers for months "were led to believe that grain prices would not improve for the 1972 crop."

"In contrast with their position," Frazier said, "those export companies who were close to the department were not considered to be 'market sensitive.'"

Charles W. Pence, an official of the USDA's Export Marketing Service, told the subcommittee he called most of the grain exporters, including the six largest—Cook, Gracac, Continental, Cargill, Bunge, and Dreyfus—and told them the department's export payment policy on wheat would no longer reflect U.S. export price levels which were in effect previous to the Russian wheat sales.

Dr. Carroll G. Brunthaver, assistant agriculture secretary, defended the telephone calls and said the exporters were told that "we are no longer playing under the old rules."

"This was intended to place exporters on instant notice that if they continued making sales, they did so at their own risk as to subsidy levels," Brunthaver said. "This was done to prevent overselling of certain classes of wheat."

"The exporters were not told what a new U.S. export price would be nor was any information given to indicate that the level of subsidy would necessarily change."

Under questioning, Brunthaver said the public wasn't told "we were no longer playing under the old rules" until a day later—Aug. 23—because the announcement was not considered to be "market sensitive."

Nation's Economy May Top Forecast

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's economy, still on a strong upward path, may top the Nixon administration's official forecast made in January, government reports indicate.

The Federal Reserve Board supplied evidence of continuing economic expansion Monday, reporting that its index of industrial production rose 0.5 per cent in August after a 0.3-per cent gain a month earlier. The index is regarded as one of the most sensitive indicators of the economy.

On Capitol Hill, Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz disclosed that the administration had revised upward its 1972 economic forecast. Gross National Product, the output of the nation's goods and services, is expected to grow $7 billion higher than forecast in January, Shultz said.

If so, this means that GNP, the broadest measure of the economy, will grow by more than $100 billion this year and make 1972 one of the best years for the economy.

Shultz's report said that GNP is expected to average $1.152 trillion this year, compared with $1.145 trillion estimated in January.

As for industrial production, the board said its index moved up 8.2 per cent higher than a year earlier to 114.3 per cent of the 1967 average.

The production gain was strongest in the manufacture of durable goods, but output in the mining and utilities industries showed some decline.

The board's report also showed that the central bank is continuing its policy of expanding the nation's money supply to accommodate the economic growth. In August, the money supply increased at an annual rate of 6 per cent, slower than the July rate but still a fairly strong growth.

Met Opera to Open Its 88th Season

NEW YORK (UPI)—The new-old production of "Carmen" that opens the Metropolitan Opera's 88th season tonight is the late Goeran Gentele's only artistic legacy to the company he briefly headed.

Gentele, who became the Met's general manager in June, was killed in a highway accident in Sardinia the following month. He had planned to direct "Carmen" himself, and his conception of the popular work has been carried out by Bodo Igesz, the Dutch director who was his assistant.

The production will be based on the original version, presented in 1875 at the Opera Comique in Paris, using spoken dialogue rather than the sung recitatives which were added later. The emphasis will be on the passionate character of Don Jose.

California mezzo soprano Marilyn Horne will sing the title role for the first time at the Met and Leonard Bernstein will conduct.

James McCracken is the Don Jose and Thomas Krause is the Escamillo. Adriana Maliponte has replaced ailing Teresa Stratas as Micaela.

New sets and costumes have been designed by Josef Svoboda and David Lawrence, respectively, both new to the Met. Alvin Ailey, the eminent American choreographer, has devised fresh seguidillas and habaneras for the occasion.

Bizet's tale of love, jealousy and death will be played out at the Met for the 442nd time since the company was founded in 1883. Patrons will pay up to $81.25 each to see the latest of eight Met productions of the work.

Addresses National Narcotics Conference

Nixon...Drug Nations Face Aid Loss

By United Press International

Sen. George McGovern continued to challenge President Nixon to campaign following a Nixon speech in which he did not once mention his Democratic opponent by name and First Lady Pat Nixon's declaration that she was "taking the White House to the people."

On his second major campaign tour of September, McGovern criticized Nixon for "sitting there in the White House smugly on top of his Gallup poll."

The latest poll gave Nixon a 34 per cent lead in public opinion over McGovern.

Nixon told an international narcotics conference, attended by representatives of 50 nations, that the United States would suspend all economic and military assistance to "any government whose leaders participate in or protect the activities of those who contribute to our drug problem."

Nixon's speech Monday at the State Department came only hours after McGovern said that Nixon would not move against Southeast Asian nations which are a central source of heroin for the United States where heroin addiction has doubled since Nixon's inauguration.

The President did not mention McGovern by name, nor did he specify countries in his general attack on narcotics source nations. Nixon returned to the White House to enact a bill to permit the use of methadone in treating addicts, and the disinterest shown by McGovern, stumping through West Virginia, Ohio and Illinois, to know if Mr. Nixon will apply restrictions would apply to South Vietnam and President Nguyen Van Thieu.

In fact, the narcotics industry reaches deep into the Thieu regime," McGovern said in Cincinnati. "Considering the deadly nature of the drug problem here, the size of the drug threat in Southeast Asia and the disinterest shown by the Thieu government, I want to know if Mr. Nixon will apply his plan there."

Mrs. Nixon began a seven-state tour representing the President. She visited a Republican campaign center in Chicago and told a news conference that she was willing to die to save the 17 million people of South Vietnam from aggression.

Mrs. Nixon also said her only was misunderstood. Obviously, neither the new Agnew campaign style nor the old was designed by the vice president without the concurrence and instruction of his boss, President Nixon.

As Agnew put it himself, the vice president is "the president's man." He is also the president's campaigner, and a low-key approach fits the current Nixon game plan.

It also casts Agnew in an image far more likely than that of 1970 to help him in any campaign for presidential nomination four years hence.

After his renomination in Miami Beach, Agnew said he would campaign totally on the issues this year, and not as a partisan "cutting edge."

He said then that he was distressed at "the generalized identity that I received" in the knowledge of the alleged bugging by Republicans of Democratic national headquarters and the alleged mistreatment of Mrs. Martha Mitchell was what she read in the newspapers.

In McGovern's absence from Washington, Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., waved packaged luncheon meat and hot dogs, canned peaches and beans to demonstrate inflation under the administration.

Proxmire, D-Wis., told the Senate that wage-price controls had failed in the light of 49 to 63 per cent increases in the prices of the food items he held.

"He calls that a program—I call that baloney," said Senate Republican leader Hugh Scott.

Proxmire's defense of McGovern's proposal to scrap Nixon's economic controls in favor of voluntary wage-price guidelines.

Agnew Campaign... '72 Style

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew is putting his 1972 model campaign on the road today to boast of the Republican record after renouncing the hard-line tactics that were his two years ago.

He begins with a tour that will take him to eight states in nine days. Aides said Agnew probably will be campaigning four days a week until the Nov. 7 election.

But he apparently is not taking along the dictionary that gave him such epithets as "troglydotic leftists" and "vicars of vacillation" to hurl at Democrats in the 1970 campaign. And gone are the "radical liberals" who used to make up his political demonology.

Agnew has said he regrets using that phrase, the keynote of his 1970 campaign, because it was misunderstood. Obviously, neither the new Agnew campaign style nor the old was designed by the vice president without the concurrence and instruction of his boss, President Nixon.

Now, after nearly a month for the interment of the old campaign image, Agnew is heading for Minneapolis, St. Louis, Columbus, Ohio, Nashville and Chattanooga, Tenn., Winston-Salem, N.C., and Louisville, Ky. That takes him through Saturday. Stops in Texas and Illinois are scheduled next week.

Six of those states have Senate contests this year, and Agnew is expected to devote increasing attention to boosting Republican congressional campaigners as the election draws closer.

In a preview of what he said will be his new campaign style, Agnew went to Las Vegas a week ago to tell a union meeting the administration is on the right road toward solving the unemployment problem. He said the economic proposals of "a desperate candidate"—which meant Sen. George McGovern—should not change that course.

Invaders Dig In on Ugandan Border

KAMPALA, Uganda (UPI)—Tanzanian government announced Ugandan warplanes bombed the Tanzanian border area town of Bukoba today for the second successive day. The government announcement said the bombers struck at about 8 a.m. but gave no further details. Bukoba, a town of 30,000 on the shore of Lake Victoria, lies about 20 miles south of the border with Uganda. President Idi Amin said the 1,500-man force included Tanzanian troops and Uganda exiles bent on restoring former President Milton Obote to power. Obote took asylum in neighboring Tanzania last year after Amin toppled him in a military coup.

Uganda Radio quoted Amin as saying Britain and Tanzania wanted to restore Obote to power and halt Amin's expulsion of Uganda Asians. (In Dar Es Salaam, President Julius Nyerere moved about 1,000 Tanzanian troops up to the Ugandan border with strict orders not to provoke incidents or cross into Uganda).

The first flight of an airlift of expelled Asians to Britain arrived Monday morning at Stanstead Airport, east of London. Another was to follow today and a third Wednesday.

Amin told a meeting of African diplomats Monday evening that 50 Tanzanians had been captured and more than 200 killed. He quoted three captives—one allegedly a cousin of Obote—as saying the guerrillas expected to reinstate Obote and expected British troop support.

(The Foreign Office in London denied the charge.) Earlier, a Uganda spokesman said the Ugandan air force has bombed "strong enemy positions" in Bukoba, a Tanzanian town of 30,000 on Lake Victoria about 20 miles south of the Ugandan border.

Some reports said reinforcements and supplies were being rushed to the invaders. They could not be confirmed.

The Uganda Defense Council, the East African nation's top armed forces body, said Monday night it had advised Amin that "all Asians and British in the security forces must be removed by midnight (6 p.m. Monday) tonight, because they are not working in the interests of the people of Uganda."

Bomb Kills One at Israeli Embassy

By United Press International from the explosion at the Arab action to cope with the Lebanese authorities "may deny reports of government explosion any minute." He said restrictions on the guerrilla movement following weekend anti-guerrilla raids by Israeli forces into southern Lebanon. Commenting on his meeting with Riad, he said there were discussions "part of efforts aimed at diffusing the crisis in Lebanon." Lebanese Prime Minister Saeb Salam and Foreign Minister Khalil Abu Hamad said the Beirut newspaper An Nahar said today Syrian authorities have arrested a member of the U.S. diplomatic mission in Amman, Jordan, and all efforts to get his release have so far failed.

The newspaper identified the diplomat as Maj. Ricard Barret, the U.S. military attaché at the U.S. Embassy in Amman. It said he was arrested Sept. 9 at the Ramtha border checkpoint on the Syrian-Jordanian border.

Children of Flood . . . 'No Summer'

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP)—The first day of school usually means the end of summer, but not for children of the flood. "They've had no summer," said Dr. William Smolac, head of the 64,000-pupil suburban Wyoming Valley West school district here. "They've had nothing but dirt and mud." School doors swing open today, two weeks behind schedule but before desks have been replaced to replace those destroyed in June by floodwaters in the wake of tropical storm Agnes. The children, Smolac said, pressed preference for old records at the Wyoming West administration building. "Our problems right now are desks and lockers," he said. "Some 1,200 new desks are on the way, delayed by a train derailment near Detroit. . . . We have fine youngsters. It made me that much more proud of the young people that they still want to come back."

had "no camps, no swimming, no trips to the shore or else-where, none of the things that are reserved for the summer. They've had hard work." Now comes the return to class within the Luzerne Intermediate School unit, headed by Nello A. Riccetti. For some of the 15,000 pupils who were affected by the flood, it means missing pupils — "There are bus rides from trailer camps to 500 to 1,000 students, we really neighborhoods where homes don't know where they are." are unlivable, if they choose. Riccetti said. "Some children The longest ride, Riccetti says, fled flood waters in the night will be an hour and 45 minutes with their parents to relatives' homes. Some may be out of the children have the option state." of enrolling at schools near the Smolac said it was a six-to-eight week job to dry out

Crime Curb Law Created

By LYNN MULVANEY

KINGSTON

Burglaries are rampant in Ulster County.

Thursday night the Ulster County Legislature took the bull by the horns and did something which they hope adjoining counties will follow—it created a new law which will require the licensing of all second hand dealers to prevent the sale of stolen goods.

Under the new measure, any seller of property to a dealer of second hands goods must provide positive identity. Also, the dealer must keep accurate records of all purchasers.

It is hoped that such a curb of outlets for stolen goods will spread from county to county.

The idea is the brainchild of County Legislator Lester C. Elmendorf (R-Dist. 2) whose plan received the whole-hearted endorsement of BCI Investigator Michael Lisman and Investigator Wayne Beyea.

Lisman and Beyea provided some startling statistics for the Legislature at its 4 p.m. session Thursday, prompting quick passage of the measure.

During the past eight months the Kingston State Police have investigated 375 burglaries and the Ellenville State Police, 276 for a total of 651. The number is exclusive of the burglaries investigated by the Kingston City Police, Sheriff's Department and local police agencies.

Lisman said that during that period $213,000 worth of property was stolen with about $78,000 recovered. The total of all burglaries investigated by all police agencies Lisman estimates at more than a half-million.

"Ninety per cent of the stolen goods is being sold to second hand dealers by addicts and drug users," he said, telling of one case in which a $2,500 diamond watch stolen in the Kingston area was sold for a six dollar bag of heroin.

Lisman said that generally the property is sold "for peanuts" and that Ulster County is one of the many counties being "assaulted by addict-burglars."

Lisman also said that the burglary statistics would be much higher if it weren't for the fact that there are at least six known addict-burglars in Ulster County jail right now.

Beyea pointed out that at present there is a law requiring records of guns bought and sold and that pawn shops are licensed but, there are no pawn shops in Ulster County. He told of some, not all second hand dealers claiming that they "don't know" or "can't remember" the persons they purchased property from. He suggested that the new program in Ulster County be a pilot program for others to follow.

Both agreed that "the only person to fear this law is someone already accepting stolen property."

Area Man to Get Unique Diploma

ALBANY

Peter J. Fries, Box 299, RD 1, Saugerties, is one of the 77 persons who will receive college degrees in a precedent shattering ceremony Wednesday, Sept. 27. The occasion will be the awarding of the first external degrees ever presented by the Regents of the University of the State of New York.

The event marks two distinct firsts — the first time that college diplomas have been awarded to individuals who have not studied on a regular college campus and the first time in the 188-year history of the Regents that the University of the State of New York has awarded academic degrees on its own behalf.

The public ceremony will be held at the State Education Building Chancellors Hall, Albany with Chancellor Joseph W. McGovern presiding and Alan Pifer, president of the Carnegie Corporation of New York delivering the main address.

Ewald B. Nyquist, Commissioner of Education inaugurated the plan two years ago.

He proposed the idea to grant academic credit to individuals for the knowledge they have acquired, regardless of the manner in which it was acquired. Specifically designed for those individuals who choose to learn on their own, the program is based on the philosophy that what a person knows is more important than how he learned it. Thus, all requirements for on-campus residence or classroom attendance have been abolished as prerequisites to earning an external degree.

The program was made possible by grants from the Carnegie Corporation and the Ford Foundation which enabled the Education Department to develop the necessary proficiency examinations. Faculty from the State's public and private colleges have participated in developing the examinations and in establishing requirements for the degrees in order to insure that academic standards are maintained. "Each degree will reflect the high quality of comparable programs in New York colleges," says Donald J. Nolan, director of the external degree program.

Success of the program is attested to by the large number of applicants, points out Nolan. Although applications have only been accepted for the past several months, he says that 20,000 inquiries have already been received from all parts of the United States. So far, 1,000 individuals have enrolled in the program.

Of the first group of degree candidates, 54, are from New York State with the other 23 representing 15 different states. They range in age from 20 to 63 years and will all receive two-year associate in arts degrees. Seventeen of the graduates are members of the Armed Forces.

His biggest problem is alcoholism.

Billy's father is an alcoholic.

Liquor and jobs are two things he's never been able to hold. He quit drinking twice last month. And twice the month before. Maybe someday he'll straighten out. Maybe. In the meantime, his family will always come last.

The United Way provides many community agencies that can help Billy and his family. The innocent victims of alcoholism are among the people in our town who need your help. Poor people, sick people, disturbed people, old people are counting on you. Give the United Way. Please.

Board Gets Good News From State

SAUGERTIES—Notification has been received that the state Department of Transportation will begin construction of a new roadbed for the Route 9W bridge across the Esopus Creek "within the next few weeks," it was announced at Monday night's Saugerties Village Board meeting.

Notification was also received that the Department of Transportation will begin repaving Hill Street (Route 9W) in "the next two or three days," Village Clerk James Gage told The Freeman today.

The board directed Gage to write a letter to the owners of Bud's Taxi directing them to remove a shed which they have been using for an office on Partition Street. According to the clerk, the owners were given temporary permission one year ago to use the shed pending construction of an office. Two months ago they were directed to begin construction, Gage said, and insofar as construction has not been initiated, they are being directed to remove the shed.

In other action, the board directed the clerk to ask the village attorney to prepare revisions of the home occupation section of the zoning ordinance and of the licensing procedure under the village auctioneers' ordinance, both of which need to be updated, according to the board.

Revisions are expected by the board's Oct. 2 meeting, following which advertisements will be posted and a public hearing will be held on proposed changes.

It was announced that Mayor Cornelius M. Cox and Gage will attend a state Conference of Mayors in Albany on Oct. 11. The main topic on the agenda at the conference is the state's proposed new village law which is expected to take effect in April of next year.

The meeting was adjourned in memory of the late Edward Mayer who was a member of the village Board of Electrical Examiners.

program with a brief address, she turned the podium over to Hayden, one of the Chicago Seven Conspiracy trial defendants and a founder of the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS). At that point, several hundred in the audience got up and left. The crowd continued to thin out as the program proceeded; about 500 remained when it ended.

But few people left the Municipal Auditorium before the two-hour program ended at 10:30 p. m. Sitting side by side, Miss Fonda and Hayden took turns condemning America's Indochina policy and urging sympathizers to prolong the peace movement through the November elections.

"Nixon assumes that we don't care," said Miss Fonda. "We have to prove him wrong." And Hayden added, "Nixon would like us to be idiots; unable to think for ourselves. We can't let that happen."

There were no incidents at either rally; no hecklers or catcalls. Security officers remained a discreet distance from the New Paltz rally; Kingston city police ringed the Municipal Auditorium, concentrating most on keeping fire exits clear.

The rallies in Kingston and New Paltz were sponsored by the Ulster County Peace Committee and the Group for the Reconciliation of People Everywhere (GROPE).

philosophy. Bishop McCarty then became perfect of discipline and finally seminary rector in 1933. In 1939 he was named provincial superior of some 700 Redemptorists in the Eastern United States, the Caribbean area and Latin America with headquarters in Brooklyn.

While Provincial superior, Bishop McCarty arranged for the establishment of many new Redemptorist parishes, including one at St. Cecilia's on East 105th Street in New York where Cardinal Spellman had asked for "a priest who speaks Spanish." A staff of four Spanish-speaking Redemptorists, each with more than a dozen years' experience in Puerto Rico, was on the job within three days.

In South Dakota, Bishop McCarty built schools, churches and rectories, and in 1963 completed a new Cathedral of Our Lady of Perpetual Help on a hilltop on the south edge of Rapid City. It was the fulfillment of a dream he had had since his arrival in the city in 1947.

In 1965, at the golden jubilee of his ordination, the Bishop was made an Assistant at the Pontifical Throne of Pope Paul VI. At 75 he submitted his resignation to the Pope but it was not accepted until he was 80 in 1969.

Bishop McCarty will lay in state at the Mt. St. Siphosus Seminary Chapel on Wednesday, from 3 p. m. until funeral services.

On Wednesday evening at 5:30, a Concelebrated Pontifical Mass will be offered with his Eminence Terrence Cardinal Cooke as principal celebrant, at the Mt. St. Alphonsus Chapel.

At 11 a. m. on Thursday, a Concelebrated Mass of the Resurrection will be offered with the Most Rev. Harold J. Dimmerling C.S.S.R., Bishop of Rapid City, as the principal celebrant. Interment will follow at the Mt. St. Alphonsus Cemetery, Esopus.

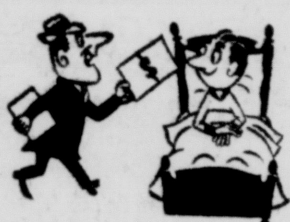

Funeral under the direction of the Henry J. Bruck Funeral Home, 411 Albany Avenue.

Parking Fee Demonstrations Scheduled

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI)—Continued demonstrations were on tap today by state employees protesting a recently imposed $5 monthly parking fee in state lots.

The demonstrations were touched off following the arrest Monday of Michael Zotta, 38, of Schenectady, who was charged with reckless endangerment and assault after he allegedly drove his auto into Patrolman William Hawkins of the Capital Buildings Police while the officer was guarding lot 'C' at the State Office Building Campus site.

Capital Buildings Police said Hawkins had turned away Zotta, a Department of Transportation employee, once, and that he returned with his car and knocked the guard over. Hawkins was not seriously hurt.

Man Sentenced In Drug Case

Jeffrey Paul Owin, 21 of Saugerties, indicted by the Grand Jury on charges of alleged sale of and criminal possession of drugs, was sentenced to six months in the Ulster County Jail by County Judge Raymond J. Mino Monday and was credited with time already served.

Akim Tamiroff Dead at 72

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI)—Akim Tamiroff, who stayed behind when his Russian drama troupe made an American tour and became one of Hollywood's best known character actors, is dead.

Tamiroff died Sunday in Desert Hospital at the age of 72 after a long illness, his wife Tamara announced Monday.

Tamiroff was born in Baku, Russia. His brother, Lex, is still a drama critic in Moscow.

He came to the United States with a touring Soviet drama group in 1923 and decided to stay.

He toured with Al Jolson, was an instructor at the American Academy of Stage Makeup in New York—where one of his students was Katharine Hepburn—and appeared on Broadway.

Capital Buildings Police said Hawkins had turned away Zotta, a Department of Transportation employee, once, and that he returned with his car and knocked the guard over. Hawkins was not seriously hurt.

Owin was indicted by the Grand Jury on three counts, criminal sale of a dangerous drug in the fourth degree, LSD; criminal possession of a dangerous drug in the fifth and sixth degrees, LSD.

Owin pleaded guilty to the third count of the indictment. Assistant District Attorney James Melbert represented the People.

Capital police turned back 22 cars without stickers from lot 'C' during the morning, and the lot ended up about half-full. Workers without the required sticker on their cars parked in other lots, only to receive red violation notices and face a possible one month's loss of parking privileges on state property.

The first dinner meeting of the season for the Mid Hudson Chapter of the American Institute of Industrial Engineers is scheduled for Wednesday, Sept. 20, at the Italian Center in Poughkeepsie at 5:30.

Irving Goldstein will be the feature speaker and will talk on "Experimentation in Production." He is an associate professor in industrial and management engineering at the Newark New Jersey College of Engineering.

Marina Hearing Wednesday in New City Hall

KINGSTON

The Army Corps of Engineers will have the distinction of holding the first public meeting in Kingston's new city hall in Broadway East Wednesday night at 7:30 with a public hearing on the proposed Kingston Point Marina.

The public hearing, set in the Common Council Chambers on the ground floor, is open to any interested person or any organization. According to a Corps of Engineers spokesman, "All parties will be afforded the opportunity to express their views and furnish specific data on matters pertinent to the plan."

Preliminary plans, as outlined by the Corps, call for the construction of facilities to moor 342 craft along with parking facilities, reconstruction of the existing dikes to afford protection for the moored craft and an access bridge to the Kingston Lighthouse. Plans call for eventual conversion of that building into a nautical lighthouse. The entrance to the marina will be dredged to a depth of 10 feet.

According to the Corps, preliminary first costs would be about half a million dollars with the federal government paying 50 per cent and the remainder paid through "local costs."

The construction of bulkheads, slips and facilities related to the upland development of the marina is estimated at one million dollars and would be entirely a local responsibility. As outlined by the preliminary studies by the Corps of Engineers, "local costs" could be as high as $1,250,000. The city of Kingston could be obligated for as much as half those costs, or about $625,000. The State of New York, if it approves the project, would pay half the "local" costs. The city would also have to install the necessary sewage, water, drainage and other utilities along with providing the land for the project.

The city would have offsetting revenues from the marina, rental of berthing spaces, parking fees and receipts from the concession stand along with revenues from the sale of fuel and other boating necessities. Approval from city and state agencies would be necessary.

Area Group Hears Teacher

WOODSTOCK
Some 35 persons turned out to hear Eugene Malkis, social studies teacher at Onteora Central School discuss "Philosophy of Classic Forms of Government" at the Woodstock School Monday night, a program sponsored by the Woodstock League of Women Voters.
Mrs. Dallas Willing, chairman of the event, said "We weren't disappointed" in the attendance for the initial program of a five-part series. Malkis discussed various forms of government including democracies, autocracies and dictatorial forms of government, concentrating on basic forms of western government.
There were 15 members of the Woodstock Cadet Girl Scouts in attendance (high school students) along with several married couples. Questions were directed toward the differences between communism and democracy and in what ways the two forms of government could become compatible.
Monday, Sept. 25, Matthew Ostoyich, chairman of the Social Studies Department at Onteora Central, will present "Democracy—Its Origin and How it is Practiced in the World Today" at the Woodstock Elementary School.
An informal session on voter registration sponsored by the Kingston League of Women Voters at the Rondout Neighborhood Center on Broadway was postponed until tomorrow night at 8 p.m. A spokesman for the League of Women Voters told The Freeman that Rondout residents preferred to attend the Jane Fonda peace rally at the Municipal Auditorium on Monday night.

Driver Charged By City Police

KINGSTON
A 20-year-old Kingston man was cited by police Monday for a traffic violation and subsequently was booked for disposal of a traffic summons and littering.
Dennis Ferguson of 10 Tompkins Street, was stopped and ticketed for operating a vehicle that made unnecessary noise with its muffler. Police said Ferguson tore up the ticket and threw the bits of paper on the ground. For destroying the summons he was charged with the disposal charge and the littering count was based on his throwing the torn summons on a public street.

in Albany. This evening's program will be Economic Security with Morton Meisler, assistant to Region Director, U.S. Department of Labor, as guest speaker.

New York State Assemblywoman Mary Ann Krupsak was key speaker at Monday's meeting. Other guest speakers include: Dr. Mildred Schmidt, RN, executive secretary, New York State Board for Nursing; Cathryn A. Welch, RN, director of Planning and Research, New York State Nurses Association; and Donald Brandt, associate narcotic education representative, New York State Narcotic Addiction Control Bureau.

Licensed Practical Nurses of New York, Inc. is sponsoring these tandem meetings for the purpose of keeping L.P.N.'s informed on topics that vitally effect them. In preparing this year's program the Association selected speakers who could advise the nurses on pending legislation pertaining to health care and keep them informed on developments in such fields as education, narcotic addiction control and the very complex world of labor relations.

Mrs. Pearl Rasin, president of Licensed Practical Nurses of New York, Inc. reflected the position of her organization when she stated that "nurses cannot effectively perform their professional duties unless they are economically secure and are kept aware of developments in technology and new methods of patient care. This can only be achieved through programs of continuing education, and Licensed Practical Nurses of New York, Inc. sponsors more of these programs for L.P.N.'s than any other organization in New York State!"

Hints from Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Last year I bought one of those huge old-fashioned beds. It was in perfect condition except for a couple of very badly scarred spots at the top of the headboard.

Since it was light wood and the holes had burned so badly, not even a furniture shop could fix it.

I chiseled out the scarred parts, and filled in the holes with wood putty. They have such a variety.

In my case, I bought some with clusters of gold roses. I put about seven of these clusters across the headboard, two, of course, covering up the holes and now you can't even find the damaged areas. A beautiful bed for little cost.

JAN

Dear Heloise:

Have you looked at that stem in your coffee pot lately? Ugh! Needs cleaning. From an electric razor or vaporizer you may find a little bursh that is perfect for the job!

Tie a twister on the loop end. Put soap or cleaner on the bursh, push through, then look at all the coffee residue that comes out. Keep doing this until your water comes clear.

Bell's Welfare Bill Working in New York City

By LYNN MULVANEY

KINGSTON

Assemblyman H. Clark Bell's bill requiring that welfare recipients throughout the state have photo identification cards is proving successful in New York City in particular, as well as in Ulster County and other areas of the state.

In New York City this week, Human Resources Administrator Jule Sugarman reports that about 60,000 welfare recipients have neglected to get their ID cards leading him to believe that a fair portion of that number are welfare cheats who fear that the picture taking will expose them in the future.

Here in Ulster County, Welfare Commissioner Bernhardt Kramer reports that such is not the case and that all welfare recipients have been and seem willing to comply with the ID ruling.

James R. Murphy, administrative assistant, said that the Ulster County Department of Social Services had anticipated that the welfare recipients would have objections to the procedure but that "they love it."

He said that almost all the people on assistance have already received their cards and that none have refused or neglected to abide by the ruling.

In New York City however, Sugarman announced the "largest welfare case closing operation in the city's history" with 59,900 cases to be mailed notices that they face being dropped from relief rolls for twice failing to get photo identification cards. The number represents more than 11 per cent of the city's caseload.

"The fact that these clients have not reported for their cards," Sugarman said, "is evidence that they are either ineligible or unwilling with the laws governing public assistance." He estimated that each closed case would represent about $2,500.

Bell, whose bill was passed by the 1971 Legislature and implemented this year, served on the Special Mandates Committee created to find methods of curbing abuses.

He said today that he is extremely pleased that the ID system is working and that it has been declared a success throughout the entire state.

Mammoth Mall Site... Controversy Is Raging

By CARL GRAHAM
TOWN OF ULSTER

A head-to-head confrontation between a New Jersey development firm and the owner of Mammoth Mall has resulted in picketing and a work stoppage at the 16-acre shopping center on Route 9W.

Albin H. Rothe, president of Equity Developers Ltd. of Montvale, N.J., said his firm stopped construction work and set up the picket line because Mammoth Mall owner Walter Reade Jr. had failed to pay Equity for completed construction work.

Reade says he has taken over supervision of construction because of Rothe's inability to complete the contract. Equity was winner of the competitive bid to construct the shopping center and began construction in September, 1971, on the site of a former drive-in theater.

Rothe said that about three months ago his firm renegotiated its contract with Reade to serve not only as constructor but as leasing agent because, among other things, leasing was going slowly and satellite stores were not being completed.

Reade said the contract was renegotiated because of continued conflict with subcontractors. "We agreed that I would pay the subcontractors directly with a co-endorsement by Rothe," Reade said.

Rothe said that a construction contract payment due in mid-August had been approved by the architect and by the bank holding the mortgage on the Mammoth Mall.

"It is our understanding that daries of the Mammoth Mall Reade collected the money and property. William Smart, local decided not to pay us, claiming we were not performing the work according to the contract," Roth said.

Reade said he was taking over as his own contractor "to be assured that the money would be paid to the subcontractors and not used for other purposes."

He called the renegotiation of the contract a "management agreement only," said it had subsequently been canceled, and said that Rothe's firm never had a leasing arrangement with him.

Another item of disagreement between the two concerns by the commitment to the Town of Ulster and the State Highway Department over surface drainage and sewage disposal at the shopping center. Reade said they disagree about how construction. He said he had much of the on-site drainage engaged local union help to and sewage work was included complete the shopping center in the original contract between and was negotiating with former sub-contractors to do the

By WADE BURKHART

NEW PALTZ Both the teachers and the New Paltz Homeowners Association urged the New Paltz Board of Education to return to the bargaining table at the board's Monday night meeting.

United Way Goals Established

RED HOOK

This year's United Way goals for the Towns of Rhinebeck and Red Hook respectively have been set at $7,000 and $3,300, according to the Dutchess County agency.

Rhinebeck Chairman Leigh Saltsman and Red Hook Chairman Nicholas Russo reminded residents that last year 1,208 Rhinebeck citizens and 1,150 Red Hook residents received benefits from at least one of the 32 participating United Way agencies.

While nearly 47,000 county residents were served in one capacity or another by United Way agencies, there is another side to the story that recounts what the agencies could not do because of the lack of funds.

More than $1 million was raised last year, the best total in the 35 year history of the organization. But the drive fell $41,000 short of its goal.

Some of the things that could not be done because of shortage of funds as expected included: the YMCA cutting a maintenance man and a secretary from its staff. The executive director and the youth director now share a secretary, who is also the bookkeeper. And the professional staff has taken on the additional chore of doing the maintenance work, including cleaning the gym.

The Poughkeepsie Day Nursery had to drop two staff members and deny cost of living increases to those where retained. The situation is similar in the United Way's four other day care centers, with purchases out to the barest necessities.

The Dutchess County Association for Senior Citizens wanted to open centers in Wappingers, Pawling and Tivoli but did not have the money.

The Girl Scouts found they could not provide enough training for adult leaders, that maintenance of camp buildings had to be dropped, and the field aides could not be hired.

The Neighborhood Service Organization could not set up a tutorial program for residents of Red Hook and Wappingers.

The YWCA could not expand its Teen Mother program and other programs were curtailed. Some Salvation Army units

Brooks Wants None of the Credit

DP BALL—Orioles' Bobby Grich (3) is out at second base on double play ball hit by Paul Blair to Boston's shortstop Luis Aparicio (L), who threw to second baseman Doug Griffin (C) for one and then on to first baseman Carl Yastrzemski for two. Orioles won, 5-2. (UPI)

By United Press International

Griffin hit a shot up the alley in Brooks Robinson is the kind of guy who gets three hits, might go for a three-run double.

But Blair got a fine jump on the ball and made a backhanded catch and Griffin had to settle for a sacrifice fly.

Manager Earl Weaver simply said, "Blair makes those catches all the time."

Robinson, though, was more impressed. "It was Blair's catch that won the game for us," he said, "you get three runs down at a time like that and you're in real trouble."

After Blair made the catch on Griffin's drive, losing pitcher Lynn McGlothen lined out to Blair and the inning was over with Boston leading 1-0 instead of 3-0. The Orioles then started their comeback.

Naturally, that guy Robinson was in the middle of it. He doubled in the fourth and scored the tying run on Dave Johnson's triple.

In the sixth inning with the bases loaded and one out, Doug Crowley walked and Robinson singled him to third. Johnny Oates doubled in Crowley to knock out McGlothen and winning pitcher Pat Dobson singled in Robinson to give the Orioles a 3-1 margin.

Brooks' run-scoring single then capped a two-run rally in the seventh after Blair doubled and Boog Powell and Don Baylor both singled.

Robinson, who has become a fixture on those instant replays in the World Series, wants to make it there again. "I want to get into the World Series. Some only thing about these games in the stretch is that you've got to get a little more excited about them. They've got to mean more than the games at the beginning of the year. You do things well in these games and you cherish them a little longer. You goof things up and you remember it a little longer."

In the three National League games, New York blanked Pittsburgh 1-0, Cincinnati beat San Francisco 2-0 and Los Angeles edged San Diego 3-2 in 10 innings.

New York stalled the Pittsburgh drive for the NL East crown as Duffy Dyer singled in Rusty Staub for the only run of the game in the ninth inning. Jon Matlack pitched a five-hitter to best Nelson Briles. Staub, playing for the first time since undergoing surgery on his right hand nearly two months ago, singled and was sacrificed to second before scoring on Dyer's hit.

Johnny Bench drove in one run with his 34th homer and bunted in the other with a single to pace Cincinnati past San Francisco. Jim McGlothen and Clay Carroll, who got his 30th save, teamed up on the shutout. Bench took over the major league RBI lead with 114, two more than Willie Stargell.

Willie Crawford walked with two outs and the bases loaded in the 10th inning to force in the deciding run as Los Angeles downed San Diego. Rookie Steve Simpson walked the bases loaded and then Gary Ross came on and walked Crawford to end the game.

KEY TD—Redskins' Larry Brown (43) scampers into the endzone to score during the fourth quarter of the Minnesota-Washington game Monday night. The Skins rallied to beat the Vikings, 24-21. (UPI) his National Football League salary chasing kickoffs and punts, charging the kickers and punters.

The seven-year veteran from Indiana, on the taxi squad last Monday night as the Washington Redskins topped the Minnesota Vikings 24-21 in a regular season opener.

Malinchak blocked a punt, picked it up and ran for the touchdown. He recovered a fumble that led to the winning touchdown, and was on the give Washington a 17-14 lead with 12:52 to play.

Just 85 seconds later, Charley Harraway swept left end for a nine-yard touchdown run that put it away for the Redskins.

Asked why Malinchak was activated just a week after he was placed on waivers, Washington Coach George Allen said:

"Because he's a good special teams man."

The Vikings outgained the Redskins 382 yards to 203 in total offense. Fran Tarkenton fired touchdown passes of 11 yards to John Gilliam, who made a spectacular one-handed failing catch in the third period for a 14-10 lead, and of 4 yards to Bill Brown with 1:10 remaining in the game. Clint Jones scored from a yard out in the second period.

"Giving up two fumbles a blocked punt, a missed field goal, a blocked field goal—the accumulation of that was too much to overcome," said Vikings Coach Bud Grant. "I don't care how much offense you have."

Washington got on the scoreboard early in the game when Bill Malinchak stormed in to block a Viking punt by Mike Eischeid. Malinchak picked up the ball on the 16 and raced in for the touchdown with the game only 2:22 old.

After Brown capped a 58-yard drive with a three-yard touchdown run to pull the Redskins into a 17-14 lead with 12:52 left in the fourth quarter, Washington's special teams struck again.

Clint Jones fielded the kickoff and headed upfield. However, Washington's Bob Brunet crashed into Jones from behind and Malinchak recovered the ball for the Redskins.

Two plays later, Harraway swept left end for a nine-yard touchdown run.

Minnesota quarterback Fran Tarkenton brought his team upfield for a last-ditch effort in the closing minutes. His fourth-down pass of four yards to Bill Brown pulled Minnesota to within three points of the Redskins with just over a minute to play.

The Vikings had battled back to tie the game 7-7 in the second period on a one-yard run by Jones that climaxed a 94-yard drive.

Curt Knight gave the Redskins a 10-7 edge at the half with a 30-yard second period field goal.

USC Alone on Top

Associated Press and United Press International college football selectors got together this week. Both wire services agree that the No. 1 team in the nation is Southern California.

It was the second week in a row for USC as the top club on AP, but UPI voters were elevating the Californians a notch. Last week Oklahoma got the nod.

The Trojans, who routed Oregon State, 51-6, Saturday, looked like a sure thing to stay at the head of the field with Illinois set as their next opponent.

Oklahoma was second ranked on both listings AP followed the

Patterson's Ready

NEW YORK (UPI)—Don't call Floyd Patterson an old man...not just yet anyway.

The two-time ex-heavyweight champion is 37 years old but he's feeling like 27 as he prepares to take on Muhammad Ali in a 12-rounder at Madison Square Garden Wednesday night with the winner likely to go against Joe Frazier early next year.

"When I meet Clay tomorrow night he's going to be fighting a man of 27," said Patterson. "I felt like I was 37 when I fought him the last time (Nov. 22, 1965) but now everything is different."

The last time was a nightmare for Floyd. He lumbered through 12 agonizing rounds with the then champion Cassius Clay before the referee stopped it with Patterson hunched over like an 80-year-old man in desperate need of a doctor. An examination after that Las Vegas title fight revealed Patterson had suffered a slipped disc.

Since then Patterson has lost only to Jerry Quarry (1967) and Jimmy Ellis (1968) but more recently has run off nine consecutive wins after a two-year retirement following the disputed loss to Ellis in Stockholm.

"I don't figure too many people are going to be picking me to win," said Patterson. "I wouldn't even blame my wife if she picked Clay. But I know myself and I'm picking me. I will not be shocked if I win."

While Patterson believes he's a younger man in mind and body than he was a decade ago, Ali hasn't tried to run away from the truth.

"I guess I'm getting old," said Ali, "because I don't like crowds around me any more. I used to like people around me when I'm training but now I want peace and concentration. I don't care about people any more."

SAUGERTIES of the Dutchess County Scholastic League title. With the kind of material he made it . . . at least partially . . . by finishing in year, you could hardly blame an unusual four way tie for first.

County Clubs Will Observe Hunting and Fishing Day

KINGSTON In 1971 alone, nearly $200,000,000 was put to work for fish and wildlife research, conservation, hunter safety, land acquisition and game management. The entire bill was paid by the hunters and anglers through excise taxes on firearms and ammunition and fishing equipment. Not one penny was taken from public funds.

Proclamations hailing the day have been announced by President Nixon, Governor Rockefeller and State Commissioner of Environmental Conservation Henry L. Diamond. Commenting on National Hunting and Fishing Day, Commissioner Diamond noted that, "if you care about the environment, you should know about the major contributions sportsmen have made to it."

The club grounds are located on the Wittenberg Road midway between Route 28 and the town of Bearsville. There will be signs posted on Route 28 to guide persons to the clubhouse. Supervisor Frank L. Harkin of the Town of Wawarsing has issued a proclamation setting forth the last Sunday of the month annually as Fish and Game Day.

"Sportsmen have long fostered the ethic of a healthy environment being maintained for future generations," said Harkin. "And they have put their dollars on the line to see that this ideal becomes a reality. The Wittenberg Club points out that for more than 35 years, the hunters and fishermen have paid with their pocketbooks for the wilderness pleasures, the public enjoys today."

but the price of victory may well be a year of frustration as the Sawyers go into this season with a lineup full of youngsters who rarely saw action in 1971.

"I try to play my best eleven," Seither, whose Saugerties squad meets Kingston at Dietz Stadium Saturday, said. "I don't look towards the future."

Thus, when the veteran mentor talks about rebuilding in 1972 he means right from the ground on up. Only two of his starters return, and one of them, fullback Dave Fuller, may be hampered after a bout with mononucleosis. The other is end Doug White.

Seither's first order of business is finding a quarterback. That means someone to step into Rich Koegel's shoes and that won't be easy since the Sawyer superstar was all-league.

Vying for the No. 1 slot are seniors Bill Maines and Bill Brinnier, and youngsters John Lack and Wayne Bryun. Maines should get the job, at least at the beginning. Seither doesn't expect to do much throwing, so the guy who can move the club on the ground has the advantage.

If Fuller is OK, the Sawyers will have a first-class ball carrier running out of the fullback hole. Jim Whiteford appears set at one half-back with either Mark "Doc" Salinovich or Bob Heinbeck at the other.

Hoping to make it into the lineup in the backfield are Al Kramer, Steve Hall, Mark Stevens, Ed Zito, Sal Misasi, and John Lechner.

With the exception of White at end, everyone is new on the offensive line.

Jim Myers, Terry Van Blaricum, and Paul Van Blaricum are up for the split end post. Glenn Richardson is hoping to shove White out at tight end.

At tackle, Saugerties will go with big Bob Praetorius, the largest player on the club at 6-3, 200. Mike Abate, Jerry Kaiser, and Doug Whiteford are the others there.

The guard jobs will probably go to Dan Fitzpatrick and Scott Wilson with Bob Tamney, Bill Reed, and John Miron backing them up.

George Covell and Doug Myers will battle it out for the center position.

Things are somewhat brighter on defense. Several of the Sawyers have experience and Seither feels that if the defense can hold down the opposition his team will be in every ballgame.

Lechner, Praetorius, Abate, and Tamney are the interior linemen. Whiteford, Myers, Fuller, and Zito are the starting linebackers with backup help.

The schedule:

Date	Opponent	Place
Sept. 23	Kingston	Away
Oct. 7	Beacon	Home
Oct. 14	John Jay	Home
Oct. 21	Poughkeepsie	Away
Oct. 28	Ketchikan	Home

Warns' Aerials Pace Ridgers

SAUGERTIES Jack Warns uncorked four touchdown passes, one a 55 yarder to Alan Kane, to pace Ferraro's Mahogany Ridge to a 26-13 win over Auringer's in the SAA Touch Football League A Division.

Warns also hit Charlie Hudson twice, from 30 and 45 yards and Chuck Schirmer with a 22 yarder. Keith Thompson of Auringer's connected with two TD passes, a 24-yarder to Tom Auringer and a 6-yarder to Steve Wilson.

Friendli Inn blanked Orville and Arlene's, 27-0, in a B Division contest. The FI quarterback, unidentified, ran one yard for a score and connected on TD aerials to Rich Swart (18), Wayne Dederick (6) and Mike Cummings (5).

Turkey Shoot At Phoenicia

Phoenicia Fish and Game Association stages its annual Turkey Shoot Sunday, Oct. 8. Competition will be in big bore, shotgun, 22 gauge and archery. Turkeys will be awarded as prizes.

The Phoenicia club reports that stream and fishing conditions have remained good despite earlier heavy rains. The Esopus is running fast, especially below the Portal which has been open for more than a month. Although the water coming through the Portal is discolored, reports of good catches are being made.

This year the State Conservation Department has stocked the Esopus and feeder streams with approximately 31,500 trout. The Phoenicia club planted ten vibret boxes of trout egg culture and a hatch of about 75 per cent is predicted.

Farrell Hits 701, Albright 615

Jack Farrell and Bea Albright, a couple of familiar names on the area bowling scene, crashed into the limelight again with the first men's 700 and first ladies' 600 series of the season.

Farrell, leading off with the area's top single of the year, a 279, backed that with 239 and 183 to rack up a 701 trio in Saugerties Merchant action.

Albright finished strongly at 211 after a 199-205 start to wind up with a 615 effort and pace all the shooters in the Pioneer Mixed.

Bill Buck topped the list of other Sawyer high rollers with a 243-620. Bill Terwilliger placed a 617 off a pair of 213's and Orville Whitaker slammed 246-600. Andy Jasienowski powered a 214-623 set to lead the Sawy-kil Rest team to highs of 1028 and 2911.

Mary Leskody's 469 was runner up in the Pioneer action. Jim Folwell crashed 231-578 to head the men's scores while Jack Doyle tumbled 551 and Wally Peters notched 522. Team No. 3 took game honors at 689.

Tannenbaum's Toe Key to UCAL Football Pennant

By STEVE KANE

KINGSTON
Steve Tannenbaum, Matt King and Ralph Calderone may hold the keys to the Ulster County Athletic League football crown this year. As the league's first Saturday of action completed, the presence of two and the absence of one in their respective teams' attacks proved the margin of victory in a weekend of cliff-hangers.

Dave Frank's Blue Devils were the sensation of the afternoon. A 24-yard field goal by Tannenbaum boosted the Ellies to a big upset over powerful Liberty. It was the second UCAL victory ever for Ellenville, the first one came in last to make for many close contests. Ellenville's three-point year's finale against Rondout. Both were won by Tannenbaum's toe.

In a schedule that featured a tie and three other games decided by two points or less, it became obvious that the UCAL's great balance is going ago.

The only thing Red Hook in his debut, hitting nine of 14 attempts, and struck twice for touchdowns.
Even at that the Raiders were one of the pre-season favorites of blocking in front of Walkill's wishbone-T. All UCAL two years ago. Calderone was bottled up the wishbone sweeps may be harder to stop than the passed up last season as the Calderone's role is the hardest one to figure. A senior end for Panthers slumped to a 18 their secondary. Mark Walther heaved one pass all day, and But to make a wishbone go it was a 50-yard bomb. It's unlikely the Panthers will keep the defense honest, as the Panthers learned Saturday. A charging Red Hook defense that end of the Walkill attack may be harder to stop than the wishbone.

CYCLING PARTRIDGES—The TV Partridge Family will help fight cancer by participating in a Bike-a-Thon. On Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 28 and 29 the first annual Partridge Family-American Cancer Society Bike-a-Thon will take place in many cities and towns across the country.

NO MORE THREE DOG NIGHTS—The group Three Dog Night got its name from out of the sheep-raising country of Australia.

Aborigine sheep herders used to find warmth by putting their feet against one of their dogs. As the night got colder he used another dog to block the wind from his front. If it got even colder, a third dog was used for the back. The coldest nights were "three-dog nights."

Although Three Dog Night has had its share of cold nights while singing with other rock groups, their recent gross of over $5 million of personal appearances guarantees them lots of warmth. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

One of Those Tricky Ones

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Board eight of the continent-wide Olympiad fund game is a real dilly.

If South plays at five diamonds, he will have no trouble against any lead except the singleton king of hearts. Against that lead he will wind up losing the ace of trumps, a spade and a heart ruff but he can try to guard against the heart ruff by playing king and jack of clubs.

If West doesn't cover with the queen, South plays dummy's ace, leads a third club and discards his spade loser. West won't be able to put East in for the heart ruff.

West can foil this plan by covering the jack of clubs with the queen.

If West gets to play in four spades as the result of a lack of enterprise on the part of South, there are several lines of play, depending on the opening lead. Against a trump opening, West can make his contract by guessing the exact club situation.

Against a club opening, North and South will probably take two clubs, the ace of hearts and a club ruff before West gains the lead.

If North opens a diamond, West will probably play a heart at trick two. North will take his ace and if North is smart enough to follow up by underleading his club ace he will defeat the contract.

Otherwise, West will be able to establish dummy's heart suit and will wind up making a couple of overtricks if North leaves the clubs entirely alone. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

V.D.? (Q.) I think I have V.D. I don't know how to find out if I have it or not. I can't go to my doctor. He's not the type with whom I can talk to freely.

I don't know what to do. Could you please help me?—14 and Worried in Maryland.

(A.) Make an appointment for a personal conference with your school nurse. Be honest with her. Tell her the facts. She should be able to give you the information you need and refer you to a doctor.

Your case is an example of the fact that worry about getting pregnant isn't the only problem that results from permissive sex habits.

NOT THE END? (Q.) I loved this girl but I did not tell her. I don't know why. I just didn't. I think she loved me too. But she was very jealous and this made me mad.

One day she was being jealous and we got into an argument. I told her, "I don't want to have any part of you anymore. This is the end between us."

That was a year ago. Ever since I have wanted her back. How can I get her back?—16 and Sorry in Texas.

(A.) You get a girl back by telling her you did wrong, that your feelings for her haven't changed, and by asking her to forgive you.

If you do this, and if she still cares for you, she may return to you. If she does, try to avoid the kind of arguments that caused trouble before.

Reds in Heavy Attacks On Vietnam Central Coast

SAIGON (UPI) — Communist troops Monday launched heavy attacks on the Central Coast against defenders of a district capital and nearby outposts in South Vietnam's least secure province, military sources said today.

The U.S. command disclosed that two U.S. Navy airmen were missing in the crash of their A6 Intruder jet northeast of Hanoi Sunday only hours before the North Vietnamese government released three American prisoners of war in a ceremony in the capital.

Spokesmen said the exact location of the crash and its cause were not known.

Air Force spokesmen officially announced that Capt. Charles D. DeBellevue, 27, of Lafayette, La., was credited with bringing down his sixth North Vietnamese MIG jet fighter—giving him more MIG kills than any other American in the Vietnam War.

In air action, the command reported 230 U.S. fighter-bomber strikes Monday over North Vietnam and said 15 B52s bombed Communist positions around Dong Hoi just north of the Demilitarized zone. Spokesmen said the fighter-bombers knocked out 12 bridges, 24 warehouses, 18 trucks and 16 small supply ships. A total of 57 B52s hit targets in North and South Vietnam Monday and today, officials said.

South Vietnamese spokesmen said the North Vietnamese fired about 500 rounds of 82mm mortar shells on a government position about three and a half miles southwest of Bong Son, 290 miles north of Saigon, Monday and that a ground battle followed. The Communist gunners hit an adjacent government camp with 50 mortar rounds a few hours earlier, spokesmen said.

Three American advisers were caught and wounded in an open area outside the nearby district town of Tam Quan when the government unit they were with came under a mortar barrage.

UPI reporter Ed Bassett said an estimated 1,000 Communist troops were attacking Ba To, which is divided by a river. Bassett said the east side of the town was under North Vietnamese control today and the west side was taking sporadic rocket fire.

An Air Force board of review credited DeBellevue with his sixth MIG after verifying from other sources that a previously registered "probable" kill had in fact crashed. He downed his fifth MIG Sept. 9 in a dogfight over Hanoi, giving him ace status. But investigation showed he got his sixth MIG in the same dogfight, making him the only U.S. flier with six Communist planes to his credit, west of Da Nang, the nation's second largest city 370 miles north of Saigon, sources said. To, a district headquarters at Mo Duc, 15 miles northwest of Ba To, about 600 miles north of Saigon, was pushed through two Communist ambushes on Highway 1—the main north-south route that used to be still holding out at connect Saigon with Hanoi—and daybreak today, however. Other North Vietnamese troops took a be-leagued since Friday, the militia outpost 15 miles north-Saigon command said.

Freed POWs Relaxed

HANOI (AP) — After 24 hours of freedom walking around the capital of the country they once regularly bombed, three American pilots looked more relaxed Monday than they had under the movie lights of their release ceremony. They were talking about making the long flight halfway around the world home.

Air Force Maj. Edward Elias looked wistfully toward his fellow pilots, Navy Lts. Norris Charles and Markham Gartley, who were laughing over dinner with their loved ones.

"I sure wish I could get home soon," he said.

Definite plans for their departure from Hanoi have not yet been firmed, according to Cora Weiss, co-chairman of the Committee of Liaison with Families of Servicemen Detained in North Vietnam.

"It is in the hands of the Foreign Ministry but I expect to be leaving with the men this weekend," Mrs. Weiss said. The men were released Sunday.

Monday afternoon Charles and his wife Olga planned a quiet stroll around a popular Vietnamese lovers' lane on the edge of a large lake in the middle of Hanoi.

Hundreds of Hanoi residents gathered around them curiously, just watching and saying nothing.

As Minnie Lee Gartley and her pilot son Mark joined them, someone shouted out, "Gartley, Gartley," and the crowd murmured but did not seem antagonistic.

Mrs. Weiss told the pilots later at dinner: "Could you imagine Japanese pilots walking free in New York City after the bombing of Pearl Harbor? This is fantastic."

House Committee Approves $481 Million for Military Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — With an endorsement of the so-called Nixon Doctrine, the House Appropriations Committee has approved an extra $481 million for military aid and an over-all foreign-programs bill totaling $4.2 billion.

The committee said it felt the $481-million boost over last year's military-aid level was justified because President Nixon's policies had saved money and GI lives by bringing about troop reductions abroad.

The military-aid boost and an extra $526.6 million for interest funds were the biggest increases in a bill $1 billion higher than last year's but still $967.9 million below Nixon's requests.

House action on the bill is scheduled Thursday.

The committee quoted Asst. Secretary of State Marshall Green as saying the effort to turn the Vietnam war over to South Vietnamese troops and withdraw some 500,000 U.S. troops has saved $22 billion a year.

This is the "peace dividend" that has been more than offset by higher non-Vietnam defense spending.

The committee also quoted Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird as saying that reduction of U.S. forces in Korea to 43,000 from 63,000 has saved $500 million over the past five years.

The increase this year for development-loan funds included $320 million for the International Development Association (IDA) compared to none last year and an additional $206.6 million for the International Development Bank (IDB), making a total of $526.6 million for the bank this year.

The IDA advances development credit to poor countries and gives them 50 years to repay it. The IDB makes loans to Latin American countries.

The committee criticized the continuation of U.S. aid to countries which expropriate U.S. property, such as Chile, but it did not recommend the aid be halted.

Anticrime Bills Passed In Senate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate has pushed through a series of anticrime bills including a plan to compensate the victims of violent crime — but at least part of the package may be scrapped in the rush of Congress to adjourn.

A bill that would compensate crime victims by up to $50,000 passed the Senate in a 61-8 vote Monday. The Senate also:

- Voted 46-23 to make it a federal offense to kill a policeman or fireman.
- Approved 46-23 a measure to provide low-cost, federally-subsidized life insurance for firemen and police.
